

Independence Day Speech in English

Respected Teachers and my dear friends, today, as we are here to celebrate the 77th Independence Day of India, our hearts are filled with emotions, pride and determination. On this historic day, we honor the brave souls who sacrificed their lives and fought for the freedom of the country we cheered for. I extend a warm welcome to all my colleagues and teachers here to celebrate this great day. As we celebrate 77 years of Independence and Incredible India, I extend grateful congratulations to everyone here and thankful to listen to me.

August 15th holds great significance for every Indian citizen, whether residing within Bharat or other countries. It is a day of pride and patriotism as the Indian flag flies high in the blue sky at our homes, schools, Colleges and Office premises. As we raise the tricolor nationwide, let us pay honor to the brave freedom fighters who made the sacrifice in the struggle for independence of India.

India becomes the world's largest democracy. It shows the successful celebration of a rich cultural heritage, all religion and civilization. Today, I am here to extend my deepest gratitude to all those who have contributed to the growth, and prosperity of our nation, fulfilling the dreams of millions of Indians.

On this let us all promise to contribute to our country's progress, growth, uphold its dignity, and safeguard its values. Let us ensure to walk on the path of the freedom fighters who sacrifice for the nation and stay responsible, seek knowledge and become dedicated towards defending our nation against any challenges ahead.

We all together must strive to build and develop our country, making it the greatest in this world. Let us play our roles as responsible citizens in a democratic nation and work towards its success in this world.

Let we cheer this day of national pride and move forward with determination and unity towards a brighter and prosperous India.

Jai Hind Jai Bharat! Happy Independence Day.
